Swine flu hits Ahmedabad's west hard

AHMEDABAD: The western part of the city including Sarkhej, Maktampura, Bodakdev and south-west zone of Jodhpur have been identified as areas where maximum cases of swine flu have been reported this year. According to senior Ahmedabad Municipal Corporation (AMC) official Bhavin Solanki, among the corporation wards, Jodhpur, Chandkheda, Nikol and Vastral had the maximum number of H1N1 cases. So far nearly 400 cases have been reported from the city, of which at least eight cases have been fatal. Solanki said that of the eight deaths, two were reported in Vastral, one each in Vejalpur, Saraspur, Maninagar, Naroda, Odhav and Dariapur wards. Of these 400 cases, around 50% were reported from these areas, said officials, adding that majority of patients in Ahmedabad city were between 40 and 50 years. Mayor Bijal Patel said that a meeting of the senior officials was held on Tuesday. She said government hospitals have adequate isolation beds and equal number of ventilators. She said there are 122 isolated beds in five government hospitals in the city including Asarwa Civil and Sola Civil Hospital. The mayor further said that there are 57 ventilators kept ready exclusively for swine flu patients. Patel further said that AMC health team survey found 450 suspected cases who were administered required treatment. The newly inaugurated Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel hospital on the VS campus does not have any isolation beds for swine flu patients. Officials explained that as VS hospital has 22 isolation beds, authorities did not reserve any in SVP hospital. The health team from the Centre, which is camping in the state, has reviewed the civic body's claims and inspected the isolation beds and also carried out a surprise check of patients and nearby areas to verify AMC officials' claims of proper follow up.

Norwegian YouTuber Pays Rs 28,000 For a Rs 20 Haircut in Ahmedabad

AHMEDABAD: Norwegian YouTuber Harald Bald, who is popular for his travel vlogs, is currently touring India and recently got a 20-rupee haircut on the streets of Ahmedabad. Sounds like every foreign vlogger checking the to-do deshi thing, right? Probably. However, Harald ended up paying Rs 28,000 for the haircut. Did it blow him away or was he simply conned on tape? In the now-viral video, Harald walks up to "street-salon" hairdresser and asks him for a quick trim - while taking his permission to film the haircut for his YouTube channel. "As soon as it's over, I'm gonna try and grab someone around here that speaks English. I'm very curious to know how this business - how it's working. How many customers he has per day. And I would like to hear if he has to pay anyone to be on the pavement for salon," the YouTuber, seated on a chair, says during his haircut. The Indian hairdresser, too, pulls out his smartphone out of curiosity and records the unique experience. "It's pretty good actually," Harald reviews his haircut and the two promptly snap a few selfies together. "20, right?" Harald asks the hairdresser and hands him a twenty rupee note. Expecting to be charged more, Harald expresses his astonishment. "That was pure honesty. He told me straight up it was 20. He could have asked for a hundred and I wouldn't have flinched," he says and pulls out $400 -- that converts to Rs 28,000 from his pocket to give it to the hairdresser before adding, "I reckon this is the best candidate found on my travel so far an extra reward." He then takes help from an English-speaking local to explain to the hairdresser that the donation he made was for him to buy new equipment and taking care of his family. If you are new to Harald's world, the YouTuber loves touring the world and is doing a series where he spends a month's funds collected from his fundraisers and gives it to a deserving self-employed individual or an entrepreneur every time he spots one.

"Harold I like your videos so much dude! I'm a barber from Los Angeles, California it's great to see through your videos of how people from different backgrounds and walks of life can come together and share many beautiful experiences and learn from each other over a simple haircut! Keep making these great videos. Stay true," wrote one user.

Students in Gujarat Will be Pledging to Not Marry Without Parents' Consent

AHMEDABAD: On Feb 14, about 10,000 youngsters will be participating in an oath-taking ceremony where they will pledge to be obedient to their parents and not marry without their consent. According to a report in Times of India, the event is being organised by a voluntary organisation called Hasyamedva Jayate run by laughter therapist Kamlesh Masalawala. Poet

Mukul Choksi is also one of the organisers.

According to Masalawala, many young people take impulsive decisions when it comes to choosing a life partner and that only parents should be allowed to make the final choice. The event will take place simultaneously across 15 schools and colleges. Well, to some people who are single on Valentine's Day, maybe taking a pledge would not be such a bad idea. Preaching abstinence on Valentine's Day to resist the Western corruption of Indian culture is not new in India. Every year, several right-wing and fringe organisations such as Bajrang Dal lanch anti-Valentine campaigns and there have even been instances of couples getting beaten up on the road. Meanwhile, just across the border, a University in Pakistan will be celebrating Sister's Day on the 14th to promote "Islamic traditions".

Gujarat: Leopard cub adopted by lioness die

AHMEDABAD: A leopard cub nicknamed Mowgli because of the unusual family that chose to bring it up died on Monday. Forest department officials said that the cub was suffering from congenital femoral hernia which lead to its death. The leopard cub was first spotted by a forest staff at the end of December, being reared by a lioness. It continue to tag along with the lioness and her two cubs. The forest department that had spotted the unusual family in the Gir-West division had at that time called it an unusual phenomenon. The leopard cub was one and a half month old at that time Deputy Conservator of Forest, Gir-West division Dheeraj Mittal said that since it was a congenital condition there was nothing much the authorities could do anyway. He however said the 45-day long association of the leopard cub with the lioness and her two cubs were one of the most amazing events. "The two lion cubs are meanwhile doing fine," said Mitta It should be noted that after the unusual pride was first spotted by the department it had also shared pictures and videos of the bond between the lioness and the leopard cub.

The department and also ensured that the actual location of the family was not revealed so as to keep curious visitors away. It should be noted that lions and leopards happens to be arch enemies and the former often end up attacking and killing the young ones of the latter. After being first spotted, the department had also reported that the lioness took extra care of the leopard cub and also made efforts to hide it from the lions in the area. How a leopard cub could understand a lioness was also a matter of surprise for the forest department officials. The department could not find the whereabouts of the mother leopard and it was suspected that she might have abandoned the cub. "The two lion cubs are meanwhile doing fine," said Mitta It should be noted that after the unusual pride was first spotted by the department it had also shared pictures and videos of the bond between the lioness and the leopard cub.
