

VMC takes back 46 plots it had given for afforestation

Ahmedabad: The Vadodra Municipal Corporation (VMC) has decided to take back the 46 plots it had allotted to various organisations for afforestation purpose in the city. The decision was taken after a major row erupted when it came to light that the plots were being used for purposes other than plantations.

The plots were awarded by the civic body to various organisations including those led by politicians. It transpired that at most of these plots there was no afforestation in true sense. A few saplings were planted while the remaining portion of the plots was being put to some other use. A series of controversies erupted as it came to light that politicians, including those in top positions, were linked to some organizations that had secured the plots but hardly took a step towards adding to the city's greenery. When the ruling BJP found its members being targeted, it started looking into the affairs of plots allocated to Congress members. However, Mayor Keyur Rokadia, on Thursday morning, announced that the VMC was taking back all the 46 plots that were allotted for afforestation. "A resolution was passed in 1991 to give plots under this arrangement. But in the wake of the controversy, we have decided to take back all the plots," said Rokadia. Rokadia said that the plots were allotted to different organizations only till 2019. "Some of these plots were also given to senior citizens and women organizations that did good work. We thanked them

Online searches for residential properties picks pace in June: Housing.com's IRIS

Ahmedabad, Online searches for residential properties picked up pace in June 2021 over the previous two months with Delhi-NCR getting maximum traction indicating a rebound in the real estate sector as the second wave of Covid-19 pandemic abated, revealed Housing.com's IRIS.

IRIS (Indian residential index for online search) is a monthly index that tracks the potential buyers' activity in primary and secondary residential markets on the Housing.com portal, the leading online real estate platform in the country. It has been created with the objective of giving an in-depth view of buyer activity in India by tracking 42 key cities driving the residential market. The index is a user-friendly tool to aid homebuyers to make decisions regarding buying a home.

Housing.com's IRIS inched up 9 points MoM in June after a slowdown in online searches for residential properties during April 2021 and May 2021. Compared to the past year, national online demand is up by 26 points Year-on-Year, despite a similar lockdown situation in both periods. As per our research, both online and offline trends hint at a healthier bounce back from the impact of the 2nd Covid wave, compared to the bounce back from the 1st wave last year, said Mr. Dhruv Agarwala, Group CEO, Housing.com, Makaan.com & PropTiger.com.

As suggested by IRIS trends, the demand in Tier 2 cities has recovered more quickly than in the top-cities, demonstrating resilience during the pandemic, added Mr. Agarwala. (1-7)

'Get Well Soon India' Youva Stationery's New Campaign To Boost Positivity

Ahmedabad, As the country recovers from the second wave of the pandemic, it is necessary for everyone around us to take precautions and wish/hope for the recovery of the ones who are suffering. To educate children about the effects of the pandemic and how it impacts us, Youva, the domestic stationery brand from the house of Navneet has launched a beautiful and heart-warming campaign 'Get Well Soon India' where kids are seen creating a 'Get Well Soon' card for the country. This campaign brings out the innovativeness in children and at the same time spreads a positive social message targeted at generating health awareness. It is a well-known fact that the impressionable minds of young children catch on quickly, especially through creative and imagination. With this social campaign, Youva wants to ensure the message is conveyed to one and all. The campaign delivers a powerful message that defeating the novel coronavirus is our collective responsibility as a society and urges us to help India get well soon. It stresses the importance of wearing a face mask and washing or sanitizing our hands as frequently as possible. It also emphasizes on not believing and spreading rumours and hearsay.

Lastly, it delivers the message that we must participate in the nationwide vaccination drive that is being conducted to develop immunity against the coronavirus. (19-2)

Waiting for decision regarding reopening theatres: Anand Pandit

important part of the ecosystem and till they can open theatres to full capacity, we cannot say that we have truly turned a corner. Hopefully, better times are ahead and we can go back to the movies the way we once did, sooner than later." (19-10)

Ahmedabad, Veteran producer Anand Pandit has put the release of his much anticipated film 'Chehre' on hold and says most production houses would like to wait for conducive circumstances before they release potential blockbusters.

Says he, "The industry has a tremendous amount of resilience and patience and we know that a pandemic is not the right time to take unnecessary risks. I am waiting for the government's directives regarding the opening of theatres and then will take a call as to when 'Chehre' will be released."

Pandit who has worked to speed up the vaccination drive within the industry and helped create oxygen centres across Mumbai is well-aware of the dangers posed by a possible third wave of COVID-19. He says, "At this time, the more cautious we are, the better it will be for all concerned. Yes, the industry needs to go back to work and it is already doing so to some extent but the exhibitors too are an

Janmashtami fairs may not be allowed

AHMEDABAD: Chief minister Vijay Rupani has hinted that fairs accompanying the Janmashtami festival might not be allowed this year in view of the ongoing pandemic situation in the state. Speaking to reporters, the CM said, "A decision in this regard will be taken at the appropriate time. But the first priority of the government will be to ensure that crowding does not take place." Kadaach melao na pan thay' (maybe the fairs might not happen)," The CM said that Rajkot collector has not permitted holding of the Janmashtami mela this year as well because of the ongoing pandemic situation.

Classroom teaching for grades 9-11 in Gujarat to resume from July 26

Ahmedabad: Gandhinagar: With the daily figure of Covid-19 cases in the state declining, the state government has decided to allow resumption of classroom teaching for more students. Following a meeting of the core committee, chaired by Chief Minister Vijay Rupani, it was decided that schools will be allowed to resume classroom teaching for students of grades 9 to 11 from Monday, July 26. Representatives of schools in Gujarat had on Monday demanded reopening of physical classes for grades

9, 10 and 11. A decision regarding this was thus taken on Thursday at the core committee meeting. The committee reviewed the possibility of allowing classroom teaching for students in the current situation when the positivity rate has dropped significantly. It was then decided to allow students of these three grades across the state to go to school from July 16 amid strict adherence to Covid protocol. Attendance in school will be optional, for which students will have to get proof of consent from their parents. Online education will continue alongside. Each classroom will be allowed to have students up to 50 per cent capacity.

The education ministry will have to ensure that the SOP related to resumption of physical classes is followed by schools when they go back to classroom teaching. Earlier, the state government had allowed resumption of classes for grade 12 and degree and diploma courses with 50 per cent capacity from July 9.

Besides Rupani, deputy chief minister Nitin Patel, education minister Bhupendrasinh Chudasama, energy minister Saurabh Patel, Home minister Pradipkumar Jadede, chief secretary Anil Mukim, chief principal secretary K Kailashnathan, additional chief secretary (Home) Pankaj Kumar and others were present at the meeting.
